DETAILED ACTION

The case has been transferred to Art Unit 1638, Examiner Li Zheng.

Applicants' election with traverse of group II, claim 1-9, and SEQ ID NO: 1, 3 and 5 in the reply filed on 1/03/2007 is acknowledged. The Applicants argue that even though the genes expressed in the transgenic organisms are different, they are integral parts of the present application and their shared technical feature, considered as a whole, contributes to the novelty of the claimed method. However, Applicants are reminded that different nucleotide sequences and amino acid sequences are structurally distinct chemical compounds and are unrelated to one another. These sequences are thus deemed to normally constitute different inventive concepts.

In addition, further species election is also required for the elected group, Group II, as following:

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

1) Species listed for R1 in claim 1; 2) Species listed for R2 in claim 1 (if applicable); 3) Species listed for R3 in claim 1 (if applicable); 4) numbers listed for n in claim 1; 5) numbers listed for m in claim 1; 6) numbers listed for p in claim 1; 7) plant species listed in claim 7;

Art Unit: 1638

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: claim 1.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The species are different compounds and they do not share a same technical feature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
